DD and BJ struggle is evident through ads in the 1909 The Chiropractor:

"Benjamin Franklin discovered electricity,
Thomas Edison Developed Electricity,
DD discovered Chiropractic
BJ developed chiropractic

Learn from the Developer, Enroll in the PSC

(Note that DD called himself the Founder and Developer in early volumes)

The Chiropractor Vol. 1 #5 April 1905

STOREY

p. 19 - photo of bifid table

The Chiropractor Vols. 3&4 Dec. 07 - Jan. 08 Nos. 12 & 1

GREENALL

(13) p.2 "We note that Dr. CD Greenall, of Los Angeles, who styles himself a "chiropractic," has carried his case to the Supreme Court. The PSC wishes the principles of liberty to practice what he wishes and the people to have what they wish, a victory. We hope that they win their case, not that we sanction his case or the practitioner, but the principle involved."

The Chiropractor Vols. 3&4 Dec. 07 - Jan. 08 Nos. 12 & 1

STOREY -2nd

p.5 reprints an article from the November 1907 issue of the Journal of Osteopathy which concerns "Dr. Thomas H. Storey of Los Angeles being charged with practicing medicine without a license.

The Chiropractor Vols. 3 Nov 07 No. 11

STOREY -2nd

p.2-3 reprints of two articles, both dated 3 October 1907 regarding Storey's arrest: in "Exchanges"
Evening Telegram (Portland Oregon)
The Tribune, Oakland, Cal

The Chiropractor Vols. 3 May 07 No. 6

MPA 1907

(1) p.3 initial support of new MPA of 1907 - "California law favorable to chiropractors"

He showed the class a large vertical abdominal scar which was made for the purpose of extracting $100, and hospital fees. The operation was a success, the surgeons found and succeeded in removing a $100 tumor.

Teaching Osteopathy and Chiropractic by mail has been a similar success.

We found the cause of Mr. Johansan's trouble to be a luxated atlas, the replacing of which immediately changed the color of his face from that of a beer guzzler to natural.

The red color was due to excessive heat and not by an over supply of blood as we have been taught by all therapeutical schools.

The displaced atlas pinched nerves, causing too much heat in the head and face. For a description of how the nerves heat the body see Form 31.

New York, March 31, 1905.

The Palmer School of Chiropractic:

Gentlemen—I have recommended your School of Chiropractic to some of our students. As you work in harmony with Nature Cure, and your school is undoubtedly the original and genuine, I think you should keep in touch with the naturopathic following. I am, dear sir,

Respectfully yours,

B. LUST.

P. S.—Please let me know if Dr. Fechtig, D. O., is qualified to practice your method.

Benedict Lust, Publisher of Naturopath, 124 East 59th St., New York:

Dear Sir—You say, we "work in harmony with Nature Cure." Chiropractors find, when they adjust that which is the cause of diseased conditions, that such is nature cure. You think and teach that we should practice certain rules in regard to sleep, rest, diet, drink, sun, air and water. In our infirmary we give no such directions. We find many more healthy persons who do not conform to these rules, than those who do. In other words, we will say, that paying attention to "Nature Cure" regulations have but little to do with health. Instead of "working in harmony with Nature Cure," adapting certain regulations to suit the peculiarities, caprices or exigencies of the abnormal conditions, we adjust the cause of those derangements.

In answer to your question, is Dr. Saint George Fechtig, D. O., qualified to practice Chiropractic? will say, he was with us as a student seven days. The first five days he was pleased with the science, and so expressed himself to teachers and students, until we tried giving him some advanced ideas in Chiropractic Orthopedy, for he wanted to learn all there was of it in a few days. These lessons were for advanced students and contained ideas that were diamtrically opposed to the teachings of Osteopathy and would not go down with a D. O. who had graduated in two Osteopath schools. He had become familiar with all the Osteopath movements, but when attempting to adjust the vertebrae "he fumbled all over himself," much more so than other students, he summed up the whole matter by saying, "Chiropractic is nothing but crude Osteopathy."

Dr. G. S. Archer, D. O., is a graduate of the Still School at Des Moines. He has an office within a half block of us. He has circulated one of the best Osteopath booklets I have seen. In it he tells what Osteopathy is, and what it is not. He says, "Osteopathy has nothing in common with Chiropractic."

GREENALL

pp. 12-14 GREENALL Ltr from Philaletha Michelson

Los Angeles, Cal. April 29, 1908

Dear Sir: - After reading the March and April edition of The Chiropractor I can not refrain from asking for space for an explanation.

First, to Dr. J.E. Walter, in his interesting communication he mentions the Greenall case. Dr. Greenall is a gentleman of unusual worth and ability. Sincerity is the keynote of his nature. As a Chiro he has, to my personal knowledge, effected cures which are unbelievable to all but chiropractors, the result being so quick and permanent in the cases so chronic and to the MD's so hopeless. His conception of Chiropractic is best explained by quoting from his card.

"Chiropractic .."

Dr. CD Greenall voluntarily became the defendant in the case at bar and to him will belong the first honor of facing a trial in which the issue is forced upon the state medical board in as much as we demanded arrest and we were determined to test the law. We started out to win, and let me add, to win means to lose in the lower court and triumph in the State Supreme court as the decision of a justice's court simply means we meet again tomorrow. "I humiliate you again by arresting you as a quack causing the general public to regard you as a violator of the law, as a pretender, and whatnot." And last, but not least, your attorney sends you a modest little reminder that you have something to be thankful to him for also. Precedent is more binding than statute, hence the necessity of having one's rights adjudicated in the court of last resort. A justice's court victory is simply a palliative, while a Supreme court decision becomes law, binding to all courts of the State. To CD Greenall belongs the credit of spending 13 days in the County jail all to preserve the rights and dignity of Chiropractic. At our trial we had nothing but the Palmer School system in evidence, we placed the definition of the system on the statute books and will never surrender our rights to the avaricious political clique of the medical fraternity. We expect to win, but should we lose we will again throw the challenge into their midst and stop only when victory crowns our efforts.

(...)

The definition of "massage of the spine" is to be credited to an enterprising little reporter who sought to convey a more scientific explanation to his readers than could possibly have been the case had he quoted the definition used by CDG. I have been interviewed over and over again and while the press has been mostly friendly and helpful still their lack of understanding of the science has resulted in mistakes such as the above.

Now to Dr. Pacificus: I am glad he is posted as well as fearless in the expression of his views. As for letters from the medical board pertaining to the rrights of chiropractiors, I have one written by its secretary, Dr. Tisdale, in which he wrote "Chiropractors are eligible to present themselves for examination but the examination is the same for all applicants regardless of practice." That is what the applicant is told before he appears for examination, but when his diploma and credentials are returned to him, as was the case with three in California, they were coldly informed that their college was not a reputable institution, is not meeting the standard of the American Medical Association. If you have faith in your philosophy, don't wait until the agents of the medical board place you under arrest, demand one test case in each State or rather bring one test case in the Federal court and fight it to the last ditch. And when the Medical trust capitulates, as they must, meet them at the next legislature with a bill framed so as to include chiropractic only and lobby it through yourselves. All this involves sacrifice, expense, energy and brains, but the result will repay the effort and you and the world will be wiser and happier for the victory.

With sincerest wishes, I am, respectfully yours,

Philaletha S. Michelson.

[Ed. Note]:

PS The above party is the able attorney defending Dr. Greenall. The editor has corresponded much with the party and can personally sanction every move she has made in this trial as being honorable, purely scientific and upholding the specific pure, unadulterated, philosophical Chiropractic. No adjuncts were discussed or allowed to be included, thanks to the foresight and wisdom of this justice dispenser.

The Chiropractor Vol. 4, No. 5 May 1908

MICHELSON, MPA 1907
pp.14-16
"Medical Monopoly"

reiterates CA MPA saying who will be recognized and who won't including "the requirements of which shall have been at the time of printing of such a diploma in no particular less than that prescribed by the Association of American Medical Colleges for that year."

Crux is that phrase - Michelson wanted to challenge hegemony of MPA 1907, 1901 MPA; P&S were examined by a board composed of P&S and only members of their particular school could participate (regulars, homeopaths, eclectics). Osteopaths had special board.

What guarantee does the public have that graduates of "all other" schools are more than quacks as there are only P&S and ost represented. Where is the protection of the "dear public" against incompetent practitioners of the "mallet cure" when we bear in mine that the only subject used by Chiropractors in present state board is anatomy.

As it is, no applicants except Physician, Surgeons and osteopaths can secure certificates. All others are rejected because there are no other schools whose standard is in any way similar to that of the standards of the Association of American Medical Colleges. Thereby, they seek to destroy by indirect means, a right which they are unable to confiscate by direct attack. The statute is an ingenious invasion of vested rights as well demand that a sculptor ...

PSC COURSE
The Chiropractor Vol. 4, No. 5 May 1908
p.35

Three PSC courses

1) one standard 9 month course; tuition $100.00 entitles student to courses 1,2 & 3
2) 3 month special course for osteopaths and medical practitioners. Must present a diploma from a recognized osteopathic or medical school or college. Completion entitles to PSC diploma.

The Chiropractor Vol. 4 No. 6, July 1908

CHIROPRACTIC BILL 1907, SHULTZ

p. 23 Chiropr. Bill ltr from "Dr. Pacificus"
San Francisco, Cal. 20 May 1908
Dr. B.J. Palmer, Davenport, Iowa
Dear Dr: - It is time to enlighten the public on what chiropractic is. What we need is public lectures and newspaper articles to give full information on the question. I am the first Chiropractor who gave public lectures on our science in the State of California although we have had Chiros here since 1902. ....

When I returned from Davenport in 1906, an osteopath told me of the chiropractic bill before the legislature then in session. Strange to say, I could not ascertain anything about the bill from a certain chiropractor, although he belonged to the privileged clique who expected to get a license "on the side" as I later found out. It was amusing to see that ring burst after all. They were playing a sure game as they thought and no Palmer was going to get into this exclusive mutual admiration club. The leader, whom they all trusted, proved to be a false alarm and was only the tool of another leader who was keeper of the sack to which all "privileged ones" had to contribute. The MD's had their tempter approach the leader, inducing him to drop the amendment bill in favor of chiropractic, naturopathy, etc., under the promise that all those who had so far been in the association of the selected would get a license. That bait worked like a charm. But who could describe the sore faces of the fellows when the medical board to whom they applied for their licenses could not recollect anything about that promised license. The "leader" was finally arrested for practicing medicine without a license, of course. He had already issued licenses and kept on offering them at so mush a piece. A naturopathic doctor in San Francisco showed me his license for which he was to pay $250.00 on the installment plan. When I informed him that it was a bogus license not worth the stamps it took to forward it from Los Angeles, he nearly dislocated his lower jaw. One of the PSC students one day called on a chiropractor and was then informed that the doctor was the lucky(?) possessor of a license which had cost him considerable though. Since then, other stories about they license have been told. The rest is silent. Did you ever get left? The sad story of these foolish chiropractors of California who got so badly fooled by their leaders is too foolish to be sad. Never mind boys, next time you will know better. Experience is the only good teacher whose lessons will last. Broad mindedness is far nobler and better paying after all. It is mean to be narrow minded and far from being humane and Christian. Selfishness is the poorest policy, take the lesson and be wise. Remember that it is not money alone that does the work, it takes brains too.

Sincerely Yours,
Dr. Pacificua

[Schultz in LA issued license, backed bill, arrested]

GREENALL

The Chiropractor Vol. 4 No. 6, July 1908

p. 25
"Victory for Chiropractic - Wins on technicality in the Supreme Court"

(197)

Decision based on faulty construction of complaint does not deal with the legality of the law under which he was prosecuted. The chief contention of the chiropractors is that the chiropractors are entitled to receive a license on passing a satisfactory examination in those branches of science and medicine that deal with his method of practice. They assert it is unjust to compel him to pass an examination in subjects that do not enter into his line of work and they demand the State demand the state recognize his right to practice chiropractic if he adjudged competent in that particular branch. Members of the regular medical fraternity class chiropractors with quack doctors and assert their methods are dangerous and illogical. A persistent warfare has been waged against followers of that school and several of them have been arrested and sentenced to fine and imprisonment. Appeals have been taken to higher courts with a view of securing a decision that will either sustain or invalidate the law under which prosecutions proceed. Greenall agreed to submit to arrest in order to make a test case. He was sentenced by Justice Selph. Miss Philaletha Michelson, attorney, appealed to Superior Court, lost, then she went to the second district Court of Appeal and asked for a writ of habeus corpus and was denied., made her final stand before the Supreme Court.

LA Daily Times June 26, 1908

GREENALL, MICHELSON

The Chiropractor Vol. 4 No. 6, July 1908

p. 27-28
"Portia of Los Angeles Bar - Wins first case carried by her to Supreme Court. Miss Philaletha Michelson gets decision against state medical board from highest tribunal"

(20)

Ms. Michelson, a young Los Angeles woman attorney who has been practicing law for only three years yesterday received word from the clerk of the Supreme Court of California that she had won her first case taken to the highest tribunal of the state. ...
But Ms. Michelson, who is an energetic, enthusiastic young barrister with a wealth of light hair, brown eyes and an intellectual brow, was not done with her fight on the medical law which has stood as a Gibraltar against scores of attacks by prominent attorneys from all parts of the state.

That the law is unconstitutional is ... Many schools do not require knowledge of subjects in which the state board imposes examinations. For instance the osteopaths and chiropractors practice along lines radically distinct from those of the regulars, homeopaths and eclectics. The state law therefore practically make it compulsory for an applicant for a medical license to have been a graduate of a regular school, thus the law is unconstitutional. I lost my case purposely in the justice's court to take it to the higher courts in the hope of overthrowing the law and obtaining a decision that would allow of practitioners being examined for licenses in subjects for which their schools have prepared them. There is still cases pending in which I intend to challenge the constitutionality of the entire medical act. Michelson who is a graduate of the Law College of the University of Southern California was inspired to equip herself with the legal profession through her interest in juvenile offenders. She is remained their warm champion. For two years she practiced with her brother, their office being in the Bryson Building but now she is alone and she has a large practice. [LA Herald Examiner 26 June 1908]

The Chiropractor Vol. 4 No. 6, July 1908

(19) p/29-31 CD Greenall Decision

The Chiropractor Vol. 4, No. 7&8, August & September 1908

MICHELSON
p.24-26 text of Philaletha's speech at 1908 UCA convention (2nd Annual) September 1908

(20) "The Need For a Universal Standard"

...
From a legal standpoint, any phase of science needs a standard, just as any government needs a constitution. The Palmer school is the acme of Chiropractic. Each member of the fraternity ....

Why is the Association of Medical Colleges so powerful

Calls for a strong centralized organization.

"Since it was my privilege to conduct, and in a great measure, win the first chiropractic case decided in any Supreme Court and have the science judicially defined and that is an isolated effort. I feel free to express an opinion of what might be if it were the result of the united effort of an organization."

"One Federal case properly conducted will, for all time, settle the question in every state of the union. Stupendous in it's simplicity. One bill, properly drawn, after careful study of the constitutions of the various states, could be introduced and passed in every state legislature of the union thereby placing each practitioner of Chiropractic in a position to face the world to face the world as a law-abiding, able citizen, rather than as now, a freakish violator of the law. I can't but suggest the fidelity to you science and the primary advisability of joining and upholding the U.C.A."

"Your colleges should be more numerous. You have a method which can give relief, hence you, and not the MD, should be numbered by the thousands,... with best wishes to the association and the Palmer method, I am, sincerely yours, Philaletha S. Michelson"

STOREY, GREENALL

The Chiropractor Vol. 4, No. 7&8, August & September 1908

p. 26-30
Statement of People versus CD Greenall - Philaletha S. Michelson

(2) The local (LA) chiropractors were disheartened with the passage of the 1908 (ed: 1907) bill as they had several arrests and trials and had faced total defeat each time. To leave the state seemed inevitable to the majority. Dr. CD Greenall however, had a far more practical view of the situation. Considerable persuasion induced a chiropractor to meet them. We discussed the new statute, compared it with the old, turned on the constitutional x-ray and pronounced it hopelessly defective. The result being Dr. Greenall volunteered to be become the defendant in the test case and I was retained as counsel. Then went to the special counsel for the medical board, who by the way, for several years had defended the chiropractors as well as having been one of the members of the faculty of the College of Laws of which I am graduate. I informed Attorney Bennett that I was counsel for the chiropractors and wished a warrant issued as we wished not to violate the law but to test it. He looked surprised and amused and answered "I have only the best of feelings for them; you know I used to be their attorney. Besides I am busy with the medical quacks." I insisted on the warrant (12) and at last he agreed to issue it for me my object being to reach the Supreme Court before any prejudice could have been created by practitioners of the old school and I was successful. For out of 44 cases in this State, mine was the first to reach the highest tribunal in California."

"On June 18th, 1908 (ed: wrong year) two detectives visited Dr. Greenall and were treated according to the (6) Palmer method. On the 20th a warrant was served, on the 21st we appeared in court for arraignment." Explains demurrer and motion dismissed as insignificant as she "did not want to inform her opponents to what extent I was prepared to meet the issue." ... "Attorney Bennett was puzzled and vexed and the Judge (7) made no attempt to veil his amusement. The Judge called me into his private chambers before leaving and asked why did you not go into detail and cite authority, I would have ruled in your favor as you ought to have had the decision. I informed him I sought an adverse ruling as I was intent upon the Supreme Court and he laughingly responded "I thought so.""

(8) Trail was on July 10th 1907: Bennett introduced 2 witnesses, probably 2 detectives, were fair and accurate. No cross examination Bennett called "Thomas H. Storey to the stand as an expert. The doctor gave a very brief statement of what Chiropractic is and Mr. Bennett made his opening statement to the Court as we had dispensed with a jury, the case being tried simply from the standpoint of science of law. We have admitted the fact of practice claiming it as a right. Mr. Bennett then turned the case over to me for argument, but I again waived my right in order to veil my plan of procedure." (p.27)

(9) "On August 17th we appeared in Department 1 of the Superior Court and our appeal was heard by Judge N.B. Smith who, two years previous, had threatened to fine for contempt when Mr. Bennett had insisted upon arguing his case upon the same subject [ed: probably Storey]."

November 9th, Judge Smith docketed opinion. "I surrendered Dr. Greenall to the custody of the Sheriff and at once sought a writ of habeus corpus which was granted and made returnable on the 11th. As I analyzed his (Smith) opinion and when I had it in shreds he smiled and said "You may be right, probably are, but it is a question of too much moment for a court of nisi prius to decide. Take it to the Supreme Court and let them settle the question. I at once sought a writ in a district court of appeal and on the 13th it was refused. Two hours later I was on my way to San Francisco to petition the Supreme Court for the issuance of the writ. Purchasing the railroad ticket, the clerk said "Insurance miss?" and I said "No." "But it's Friday the 13th, miss." And with Tom Lawson's Friday the 13th in mind I determined that the medical board and not I would need insurance. I arrived too late to go to court on the 14th so I spent two trying to forget that my friend was in the county jail in Los Angeles."

Submitted petition before Chief Justice Beatty, went to court every day to the 20th and the "thought of county jail made me more and more determined. At last I was met with a bailiff with a telltale smile." The Judge says he'll have an opinion by the 26th and he issued an order admitting Dr. Greenall to bail. Wired: "Writ granted. Admitted to bail."

"... when I left for San Francisco, Mr. Bennett assured me that it would take Judge Beaty half an hour to "wipe you off the earth" as it had only taken an hour and a half to do so in the Storey case several years previous when Mr. Bennett sought the same relief."

10:00 AM, 26th: Judge Beaty asked for Returns, bailiff answered "None Made" "I saw the trick clearly." Court adjourned to 2:00 PM. Called LA Sheriff, informed that return made on 22nd. "At the afternoon session Dr. Greenall, Mr. Bennett, and a reporter from the Examiner and a photographer and I were in an adjoining room and Mr. Bennett, realizing the seriousness of the situation, forgetful of all propriety, begged me not to force the issue but to submit the issue on brief." Beaty ordered case to submitted on brief as he had no jurisdiction without the Returns. "Upon inquiry with the Los Angeles Sheriff and District Attorney, I discovered that the writ had been sent to the Attorney General of the State and pigeon-holed in his office until January 1st, simply because William Tait feared the result of a personal presentation of the case."

Michelson filed 54 page brief. Bennett -12 pp., Tait- 16 pp.

Even though the case was overturned due to a technical difficulty "the court did not affirm the Constitutionality of the Act." Definition of chiropractic as a science set apart from medicine and osteopathy." She hoped for more "but when I stopped to consider the strength of the medical board, political and financial, and it's unscrupulous representatives, and the many intrigues of which they are guilty and of the many failures of our ablest attorneys, I am satisfied with the result for it is the beginning of the end."

The Chiropractor Vol. 4 No. 9 Oct. 1908

GREENALL
p.42 Letter

Davenport, Iowa July 3, 1908

Dr. CD Greenall, Long Beach, Cal.
Dear Dr:- We, the representatives of the PSC in Davenport, appreciate your self sacrifice in establishing the fact that chiropractic is an honorable and legitimate profession. We, the PSC students, consider it the greatest science and the only means of removing the cause of disease. Feeling as we do, you must see that we earnestly appreciate your sacrifices and reward. We are instructed by our fellow students to express to you our heart felt gratitude and our earnest desire for your future success. With this expression of our feeling of fellowship and brotherhood in the cause, we are, yours very truly,

Geo. B. Hamptom, Adele McLean, B.E., D.M., Joy M. Loban

The Chiropractor Vol. 4 #6 June & July 1908

STOREY - 2nd

p. 6 reprint from "The Osteopathic Physician" June 1908

"Chiropractic Mallet Gets Results"

Dr. Storey convicted of practcing medicine without a license and sentenced to 60 days & $500.00 fine. Alleges mallet usage and that he "pounded his patients on the spine, a la chiropractic ..."

PSC note: above is true, the "mallet and chisel which did the mischief and damage to the cause of Chiropractic universally, is not part of Chiropractic ... It is only used by pseudos or those who do not comprehend principles and wish a make-shift."

The Chiropractor Vol. 4 #6 (June & July 1908

GREENALL

pp. 17-18

"Another U.C.A. Victory"

Telegram:

(MS "Los Angeles, Cal. June 25, '08
To: B.J. Palmer, 828 Brady St., Davenport, Iowa

Greenall case won. I rejoice for the sake of Chiropractic.

Philaletha Michelson"

Editors congratulations to "PSC and the UCA ranks" followed by an appeal to join the UCA. Also statement that Michelson has practiced law for 3 years.

The Chiropractor Vol. 4 #7&8 Aug & Sept 1908

GREENALL

p. 113 "U.C.A. Directory

35 C.D. Greenall, D.C., 619 Linden Ave., Long Branch, Cal.

SF: A.A. Erz, DC, 1774 Sutter (AKA Dr. Pacificus, see Vol. 5 Nos. 1&2, Jan & Feb 1909, p.18)
LA: FBC Eilersficke
GPM Heathcote, DC

p.65 (Vol 4 #7&8)
photo of Michelson + Greenall

The Chiropractor Vol. 4 #7&8 Aug & Sept 1908

PSC COURSE

p. 117 Standard course up to 12 months (2 years of 6 mos. Each) 4mos. For MD and DO
8 mos for pharmacists

Tuition: $100.00 for 3 four month courses

The Chiropractor Vol. 4 #9 Oct 1908

GREENALL

(16)

pp. 36-37 Letter to Michelson from PSC

3 July 1908,. Davenport. Iowa

As representatives of the PSC we extend our "heartiest appreciation and most sincere thanks ... in the name of the student body,

Geo. B. Hamptom, Adele McLean, B.E., D.M., Joy M. Loban

The Chiropractor Vol. 4 #9 Oct 1908

GREENALL

p.37 Ltr to student body from Michelson

(July 1908, Los Angeles, Cal

Thanks - "It is the first case won in the state against the Medical Board on any issue."
Philaletha Michelson

The Chiropractor Vol. 4 #9 Oct 1908

STOREY - 2nd

p.31 Ltr dated 28 May 1908, Los Angeles to BJ Palmer

"Dear Dr:- Dr. Storey's 'spine set' has done a great deal of damage in Los Angeles for the cause of Chiropractic on account of the notoriety the newspapers gave him...

Dr. FBC Eilersficken, 205 W. 5th (PSC Man)

GREENALL

The Chiropractor Vol. 4 No. 9 Oct. 1908

p.43 Long Beach, Cal. July 8, 1908

To the representatives of the PSC, Geo. B. Hamptom, Adele McLean, B.E., D.M., Joy M. Loban,

Dear friends:- For their expression of fellowship and good will I thank the students of the PSC. I owed so much to the cause therefore, while hard in many ways, I saw it my duty to take my student which, while it has not given us all we would wish, has done a very great deal, and the future is brighter. You say you consider chiropractic "the greatest science and the only means of removing the cause of disease," but soon I trust, after opening the eyes of the blind, making the deaf hear, the lame to walk, and raising to life those over whom the regulars have pronounced their sentence of death; you will say with me you know that Chiropractic is the greatest science and the only means of removing the cause of disease. Let me wish each one of you success. Only let gain be not first - work for the cause and the good you can do. Your friend,

Dr. CD Greenall

The Chiropractor Vol. 5 No. 7 July 1909

STOREY, GREENALL

p. 50 "Legal News"

report from the LA Times

" Dr. Thomas H. Storey, a chiropractor, of Los Angeles who was sentenced by the late city justice Austin to pay a fine of $500.00 and serve 60 days in the county jail for the alleged illegal practice of his profession, recently secured a reversal of the judgment in Superior Court. This was largely due to the efforts of a talented woman lawyer, Miss Philaletha S. Michelson, to whom reference has been previously been made in these columns. Some time ago, Miss Michelson carried the case of Dr. Greenall, another chiropractor, to the Supreme Court and there secured a reversal of an adverse judgment rendered by the late Judge Smith.... Chiropractic is one of the methods included in the practice of Naturopathy which was legalized during the last state legislature."

GREENALL

The Chiropractor Vol. 5 No. 7 July 1909

p. 54 "Victory for Chiropractor" LA Times article reprint 10 June 1909

"Irregular" healer gets reversal in court. Case represents clash between schools. opposed by State Medical Board.

"State legislature at the last session let down the bar somewhat by the passage of an Act regulating the practice of the healing art [naturopathy] and it is believed that it will not be long before any practitioner who shows by examination that he is versed in his particular branch of healing may practice in this state without by other and older schools of medicine and surgery"

Philaletha in her brief references the granting of a monopoly of the healing arts to the Assoc. of American Medical Colleges. She contended that the legislature "attempted assume jurisdiction by indirectly confiscating the rights of practitioners by creating and impossible and foreign standard." Others of his way of thinking may avoid future trouble, it is said, by enrolled as Naturopaths as that branch is now considered an orthodox method of treating the sick. Attorney Michelson said "I do not advise any such course as we anxious to secure for Chiropractors the same privileges that are accorded other schools." [Coincides with her involvement in the Chiropractic College of Cal.]

The Chiropractor Vol. 4 #10 Nov-Dec 1908

GREENALL

p.22 Ltr to chiropractor from Greenall

619 Linden Ave., Long Beach, Cal November 4, 1908
Dr. BJ Palmer, Davenport, Iowa
Dear Dr:- I note The Chiropractor's directory and think it is a good idea. Long Beach (a seaside resort) has a floating population and all my patients want to know "Is there a Chiropractor in my place?" and I have not been able to say. Now I can help others in this way. Yours sincerely, C.D. Greenall, D.C.

The Chiropractor Vol. 5 #6 June 1909

CHIROPRACTIC BILL 1907

p.32 Dr. AA Erz photo

The Chiropractor Vol. 5 #6 June 1909

GREENALL

p.85 UCA Directory

A.W. Alexson, DC 619 Linden Ave., Long Beach, Cal (moved to Stoughton, Wis, see Vol. 5 #7, p.98)

The Chiropractor Vol. 5 #7 July 1909

CALE

p.35 Ltr

3735 Adair St., Los Angeles, Cal. June 1, 1909
Dr. BJ Palmer, Davenport, Iowa
Dear Dr:- I have been fortunate enough to receive a license to practice Chiropractic in California. This came about through my membership in the California Naturopathic Association.
Respectfully,
Charles A. Cale, N.D.

The Chiropractor Vol. 5 #7 July 1909

GREENALL

P.67 Ltr from Greenall exhorting UCA members to include their addresses in directory.